DESIRED WEDDING DAY PHOTO LIST

While we strive to capture many of the images below for most weddings, knowing which ones are important to you will help us pay special attention to getting all the details you want. As you plan out your wedding, please take a few moments to put a check mark next to any of the pictures that are important to you. If some are very important, feel free to highlight, circle or underline the must have shots for you.

Keep in mind though, weddings always happen at their own pace and even with two of us there we might end up missing something. So if you have some shots that you know you want, take a look around to make sure one of us is close by when the action is happening.
